THE GREELEY VICTIMS,

Commander Schley's Orders-Explaining the Calamity-Disposition of the Bodies,

Washington, July 19.-Admiral Nichols acting secretary of the navy, issued orders to Commander Schley this afternoon to remain at St. Johns as long as necessary to secure the encasing of the dead of the Greeley party in caskets and then proceed with his three ves-sels, the Thetis," "Bear" and "Alert," with the survivors and the dead, to Portsmouth, New Hampshire, where he will await further orders and where the members of the Greeley

A depot upon the east bank of Greenland, at Littleton island. This was Greely's plan before he starte i, but very carefully reiterated it in writing after reaching Ledy Franklin bay, closing his letter on the subject in these words: 'No deviations from these instructions should be permitted. Latitude of action should not be given to a relief party who, on a known coast, are searching for men who know their plans and orders. The reasons for this decision were that there was coal on the east side and noze on the west. It was in the neighcision were that there was coal on the east side and none on the west. It was in the neighborhood of friendly Esquimauxs, who did not live on the west side. On the east side there was abundant game, while there was none on the west. While numerous camps of explorers had been established on the east side for the above reasons, they are never established on the west side, because the west side was scarcely more than barren rocks. The pledge of the signal office to support Greeley in exact accord with this arrangement was the most sacred any man could ment was the most sacred any man could give, and to have departed from it would have been base treachery. This was done in every particular. Retrospectively, one may now see other plans that might have been better; but in making personal judgments, we must place ourselves in the position of Greeley and place ourselves in the position of Greeley and those who were working with him three years ago at the time he left. The signal office was condemned by a court of inquiry, because it did not depart from this agreement, so far as to establish a depot going up instead of coming down if it failed to reach Lady Franklin bay, as Greeley had directed; but it seems now that, had it been done, Greeley could not have reached it, as explained in his dispatch for reasons then not foreseen."

THE CHOLERA.

Proclamation by President Arthur-Instructions by Secretary Folger-Action by the Cabinet.

Washington, July 19.—The following proc amation has been issued by the president of the United States of America:

While quarantine regulations are committee to the several states, the general government has reposed certain powers in the president to be used at his discretion in preventing a threatened epidemic. Feeling it my duty, I hereby call upon all persons who, under the existing systems in the several states, are entrusted with the execution of the quarantine regulations to be dillicated and tine regulations, to be diligent and on the alert, in order to prevent the introduction of the pestilence which we all regret to learn has made its appearance in some of the countries of Europe, between which and the ports of the United States, intercourse is direct and frequent. I further advise that the cities and towns of the United States, whether on the coast or on the line of inter-communication, by sound and represent the coast or on the line of inter-communication, by sound sani ary regulations and promotions of cleanness, be prepared to resist the lower diseases and to mitigate their servity; and I further direct the consuls of the United States n parts where the pestilence has made or may make its appearance, to exercise vigilance in carrying out the instructions heretofore given and in communicating to the government of the United States any information of value relating to the progress or treatment of the [Signed.] CHESTYR A. MIDITLE AGED MEN—Many men between the ages of 30 and 60, are troubled with a too frequent desire to evacuate the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting and burning sensatioe, and a weakening of the system in a manner that the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy rediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin, milkish hus, again or hanging to a darkand torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause. It is the second stage of seminal weakness Dr. Tanner will guarantee a periect cure in all such case, and a healthy restoration of the Genito urinary Organs. Call or audress as above, Dr. Tanner.
